

TALKING TO YOUR KIDS ABOUT JESUS

None of us are perfect. Many of us get overwhelmed at the idea of talking to our kids about Jesus, simply because we know that we ourselves are still a work-in-progress! We don't have Jesus all figured out yet, so we feel inept at talking to others about Him.

Fortunately, God wants to use us to grow His kingdom even though we don't have all the answers. He is an expert at using flawed people to fulfill his plans. His power is made perfect in our weaknesses (2 Corinthians 9). When we feel incapable, God will work in us and through us anyway!

At Calvary, we want to support you in every way as you talk to your kids about Jesus. Begin with prayer! Ask God to give you the wisdom and the words to use at just the right moments. Ask Him to place on your child's heart the desire to know and love his son Jesus.

Below, you will find some great resources on this topic. You are also most welcome to visit with any of our Calvary Kids staff members for further support and encouragement!
